

Recruiting Tip of the Week

Characteristics of Women's College Volleyball Athletes

Technique of College Middle Blockers

Disciplined eyes

Efficient blocking & transition footwork

Compact, fast arm swing

Accelerates into slide attack

Big, wide, pressing hands on blocking

College Middle Tactical Skills

Makes themselves available for attack

Takes the swing the blocker(s) give(s)

Aware of opponent's hitter & setter tendencies

Reads, doesn't guess

Mental-Emotional Qualities of College Middles

Relentless effort on blocking & transition

Can tolerate low feedback to high work ratio

Gets emotional high from stuff block

Ability to stay focused when on the sideline

Technique of College Liberos

Good platform

Quiet arms

Controls angles

Efficient shuffle

Tracks the line of the serve

Holds follow through

Tactical Strengths of College Liberos

Captain of serve receive Sees the court – ‘good reader’

Knows opponent tendencies

Sees the blockers hands on hitter coverage

Reliable secondary setter

Excellent server

Mental-Emotional Qualities of a College Libero

Tough as nails – will challenge any hitter

Builds trust in teammates with touch and eye contact

Relentless on ball pursuit

Gets better with pressure

Reliable on hitter coverage

Technique of College Outside Hitters

Arm swing allowing both pace & range

Get their feet to the ball

Have a fast closing step

Good platform control on serve receive

Ball control when digging

Consistent, tough serve

Tactical Skills of a College Outside Hitter

Have a range of shots – line, cross, deep corner

Knowledge of holes in opponent's defense

Ability to stress the defense in out-of-system swings

Can recognize & exploit an undisciplined block setup

Deceptive & strategic with tip and roll shots

Mental-Emotional Traits of College Outsides

Recovers quickly from mistakes

Wants the ball on every play

Persistent & 'never give up' attitude

Killer instinct

Technique of a College Setter

Consistent location of sets from various places on the court

Predictable tempo – sets a ‘hittable ball’

Neutral body position prior to release

Consistent footwork on serve receive & transition

Reliable server, defender, & blocker

Tactical Skills of a College Setter

Awareness of attack options in each rotation

Knowledge of position of opponent's blockers

Appreciation of hitter's strengths, weaknesses, & preferences

Ability to make good decisions under pressure

Mental-Emotional Traits of a College Setter

Relentless communicator with attackers

Ability to receive critical feedback

Steady & calm under pressure

Instills confidence in others

Technique of a College Opposite

Swing mechanics that allow attacking with range

Accelerate on last step of approach

Get their feet to the ball

Jump through the set

Disciplined hands on blocking

Good digging platform

Consistent, tough serve

Tactical Strengths of a College Opposite

Sees gaps in the block & defense

Can attack both line & deep cross from front and back row

Makes themselves available in transition, especially in two hitter rotations

Knows opponent's outside hitter tendencies for blocking Reads and assists middle on gap sets

Can serve as secondary setter, when needed

Mental-Emotional Traits of a College Opposite

Wants to OWN the opponent's left side

Believes they deserve a lot of swings

Short memory on mistakes

Data Sources

- Technique: USA Women's National Team Coaches
- Technical: Elite College Coaches who attend annual Phenom Talent Showcase
- Mental/Emotional: Elite College Coaches who attend annual Phenom Talent Showcase
- Learn more about avcaVPI™ and the AVCA Phenom program: <https://avcaphenom.com/>

Thank you for your membership in the Badger Region

Your Partner in Volleyball