NTDP Academy now free to all members of USA Volleyball

USA Volleyball has announced a member benefit that will give athletes new tools to improve their game on the court and in the sand. As of last week, the National Team Development Program (NTDP) Academy is free for all members of USA Volleyball.

The NTDP Academy contains dozens of online lessons from Olympic and Paralympic athletes and coaches including U.S. Women's National Team Head Coach Karch Kiraly, U.S. Men's National Team Head Coach John Speraw, Olympic gold medalist Haleigh Washington, Olympic bronze medalist Erik Shoji, beach Olympic gold medalist April Ross and Paralympic gold medalist Nicky Nieves among many others.

Athletes will gain insight into what it takes to succeed at the highest level and get advice and motivation to achieve their goals with unlimited access to more than 38 courses and 204 modules.

"Our philosophy within the NTDP is to educate the complete athlete," said USA Volleyball Chief of Sport Peter Vint. "The NTDP Academy allows athletes to learn new mental and physical skills on-demand in the comfort of their home."

Besides athletes and coaches, the Academy also offers advice and lessons from U.S. Olympic and Paralympic Committee sport-performance staff on subjects such as weight training, nutrition and sport psychology. The well-rounded curriculum is based on the five pillars of the USA Volleyball Development Model: craft, body, mind, heart and team.

While this content is free to members, it is $150 for non-members.

Learn more about the NTDP Academy and see the lineup of instructors and topics at USAVolleyball.org.

Start learning now by accessing NTDP Academy courses in the USA Volleyball Academy through your SportsEngine account. If you need help, follow these steps.

Caught doing good

Franco Marcos lends a helping hand to new ref

Earlier this year, the Badger Region launched the "Caught Doing Good" recognition program. While this is not a national award, it gives members a chance to be recognized for going above and beyond.

This week's honoree is longtime official, coach and player Franco Marcos. While he wears many hats, Marcos was nominated for this award for his service to the refing community.

Here is part of the writeup: "Throughout this entire club season (even beginning last fall), Franco Marcos has gone above and beyond for helping (unofficially) mentor me (no payment, no benefits) as I returned to refing USAV volleyball. Countless phone calls, texted questions as well as on-the-job training and advice. I would not be able to feel confident as a ref had it not been for Franco (and a few others like Eileen Alt, Bart Wagner and Dan Wong). Franco has given me many tools and guidance and for that I am grateful."

The write-up goes on to quote former President John F. Kennedy:

"We must find time to stop and thank the people who make a difference in our lives."

If you are interested in still nominating someone for an award, there is still time!

To nominate someone for a "Caught Doing Good" honor, fill out this form on the Badger Region website.

The Badger Beacon will continue to recognize those "Caught Doing Good" over the next few weeks of newsletters.

Have questions? Email membership@badgervolleyball.org. Recipients and nominators of Caught Doing Good will receive prizes from the Badger Region.

Badger Region Beach Champs set for Aug. 13

Memorial Day is behind us and we can officially say: Summer is here. (Unless you're one of those that waits until June 21 to then tell me the days start getting shorter.)

Regardless, it's time to get ready for the return of the Badger Region Beach Championships. The event will take place Saturday, Aug. 13, on the shores of Lake Michigan at Bradford Beach in downtown Milwaukee.

In addition, the Region has partnered with Wisconsin Juniors to host the event and use their expertise in running beach events and their manpower to make this a great event.

According to our calendars, there are no other major beach events on Aug. 13, so there is no conflict. And keeping the event to Saturday only allows athletes a day to prepare for high school tryouts.

Coach and Club Director of the Year awards announced

The Badger Region has many amazing coaches and club directors.

And if the quality of the candidates nominated for Coach and Club Director of the Year awards this season are any indication, our Region is in good hands for years to come.

The Badger Region began choosing Coach of the Year and Club Director of the Year winners at the conclusion of the 2018-19 season. The awards are part of the Badger Region's partnership with the American Volleyball Coaches Association which is now in its fourth year.

During the pandemic, the Badger Region also began recognizing additional individuals via the Innovation Award and the Net Works award -- both of which signify coaches or directors who find special ways to keep kids engaged in unique ways.

The Innovation Award features coaches who have found creative ways to connect with their teams, region colleagues, other clubs and other groups. Examples in years' past include coaches coach who created a unique at-home training program, those who managed a special service project or found other ways to develop their teams virtually.

The Net Works Award are given to coaches who have demonstrated heroic and/or selfless acts this year. This award also is open to coaches and club directors who contribute to their communities via non-vol-

Patti Dawson wins USAV's Silver Whistle Award

Longtime Badger Region official Patti Dawson received USA Volleyball's Silver Whistle Award on Thursday, May 26, 2022, in advance of the Open National Championships in Orlando, Fla.

This award recognizes the individual deemed as the most outstanding rookie referee of the year from the previous year's USA Open Championship Event.

The criteria for the award requires the official to referee a minimum of eight matches at a United States Open Championship event as a USA National Referee in his/her first assignment at this level following certification at this rating.

Looking back

Like many coaches, Dawson first started officiating when she started coaching in the early 1990s.

Now, 30 years later, Dawson continues to coach both players and referees in the Badger Region.

"My contribution that means the most to me is when I can mentor a newer official and give them some of the feedback and tip I've gotten along the way," Dawson said. "Hopefully sharing my love of the sport with them."

A resident and native of New Berlin, Wisconsin, Dawson earned her Junior National certification in 2015 and her National Certification in 2019. She is currently a national scorer certification candidate.

Dawson credits her many mentors along the way for her success and admits she is "scared to miss someone." Some of her mentors she has looked up to along the way include Pati Rolf, Dale Rohde, Jim Momsen and Jim Arts.

"I honestly learn something from everyone I cross paths with," she said.

Her goals as a National Official are to give back to her fellow officials in any way possible and to continue to learn and grow in her craft.

Dawson, who is a proud owner of horses and dogs, recently became a grandmother and continues to also work with youths in the Badger Region, most recently coaching the Midwest Penguins G11s in the 2020-21 season.

What's her favorite memory? She said, "Anytime I get positive feedback from players, coaches or parents, that becomes a favorite memory!"

Dawson tells newer officials that to be the best they can, they should focus on being consistent, professional and kind at all times. "And learn something from every match you officiate," she said.

BEACH VOLLEYBALL BLAST!

WWW.BADGERVOLLEYBALL.ORG | MEMBERSHIP@BADGERVOLLEYBALL.ORG

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Do kids need to try out before playing beach?

No tryouts for beach. Everyone plays. That's right. Simply sign up and play. No camps, clinics, drills required. Badger Region is all about the junior players actually playing volleyball.

Are there specialized positions in beach?

Do you wear kneepads?

On the sand it's not common. If you have had knee injuries or you just feel most comfortable diving for shots with pads on, then you should not hesitate to wear knee pads or a knee brace while playing.

Are beach courts the same size as indoor?

Beach doubles courts are much smaller. Indoor courts are 60' x 30' and beach courts are 26'3 x 52'6. A smaller court ensures rallies will last longer.

GET EXCITED TO PLAY BEACH VOLLEYBALL

Beach volleyball has become one of the most popular summertime activities. Why play beach volleyball? Well, it's fun! Benefits of the sport include conditioning, cardiovascular exercise, improved agility, and provides outdoor social activity.

Traditionally when athletes are first playing in the sand, they need to get their "sand legs." Many athletes notice the sand is constantly shifting under their feet forcing quick position changes using muscles which are often neglected. Over time sand volleyball players develop excellent endurance and stamina.

Getting outside is really good for mental and physical health.

Beach volleyball provides the opportunity to get outside, enjoy some fresh air, exercise, and make new friends. Get a group of kids together, grab a court at a local park and play. Pick up games can be great for kids who are new to the game.

ADVICE FROM THE EXPERTS

Olympian April Ross said there is one big difference going from the indoor game to the beach. "It's the mental endurance. "You can't have any mental meltdown. You have to approach each one with intensity and emotion."

When asked if he believes indoor players should also play sand volleyball, former Stanford University women's coach John Dunning says yes and that "playing sand can help a player in a variety of ways, including enjoying the game for a longer time and benefiting from the mental aspect of playing on a two-person team."

INDOOR VS. OUTDOOR DIFFERENCES

Outdoors: Beach/grass/sand rule

Games played to 21 points

Playing conditions (wind, sun, texture of the sand) are up to Mother Nature to decide. That's why you switch sides every seven points

Teams consist of two players. There's no bench and no substitutions. Once you step on the court, you don't get to leave until the game is decided

Very tight rules on double contacts — therefore you'll see less overhand setting taking place. No setting is allowed on first contact

Beach players must use their palm, locked or curled fingers to hit a short shot over the net

You can penetrate under the net provided you do not interfere with your opponent

Antennas are rarely used except in pro competition. In the absence of antennas, the posts act as antennas for all purposes except player contact

Indoor volleyball rule

Games played to 25

Athletes don't have weather to contend with. You've got four walls, a roof and good lighting

Indoors, you have six athletes on the court at one time and bench players who can sub in (in addition to a libero).

Rules regarding double contacts (especially on first contacts) are more relaxed to allow for longer rallies

Open-hand tips are allowed.

Center line violations can occur if an athlete causes a safety risk or gains an advantage going past the center line

Indoor rules strictly stipulate the use of antennas to define the crossing space over the net.

Kerri Walsh Jennings heads Hall of Fame class

The International Volleyball Hall of Fame (IVHF) has announced its induction class of 2022. This history-making class spans a vast range of accomplishments, expertise, and history and will be enshrined on Saturday, Oct. 22, in Holyoke, Mass.

The 36th Induction class includes six honorees for the 2022 class: four-time beach Olympian and three-time gold medal winner Kerri Walsh Jennings (United States); all-time great indoor Brazilian Men's and Women's coach Bernardo "Bernardinho" Rezende (Brazil); founder and first president of World ParaVolley, Pieter Joon (Netherlands), who will become the first inductee in the ParaVolley category; four-time indoor Olympian and winner of two silver and two bronze medals, Samuele Papi (Italy); three-time indoor Olympian and bronze medal winner, Fernanda Venturini (Brazil); and former Technical Director of the Dutch Federation and FIVB Technical Committee member for 30 years, Peter Murphy (Netherlands), inducted as a leader.

"This is a remarkable class of inductees for 2022," said IVHF President Steve Bishop, also the President of the Florida Region of USA Volleyball. "On behalf of the IVHF Board of Directors, we look forward to welcoming these legends and their families to Holyoke for the celebration of the year. It is a special moment to watch each inductee reflect on their respective careers as they are celebrated for their many accomplishments and contributions to our sport. We invite the entire volleyball family to join us for this year's event."

All told, the IVHF has inducted 155 individuals from 25 countries into its historic Hall of Fame – those totals will rise to 161 inductees after the 2022 event, including the first-ever inductee in the ParaVolley category.

"All eyes will be on Holyoke this October" noted IVHF Executive Director George Mulry. "We are excited to honor this history-making class featuring one of the most dominant beach players to ever grace the sand, the first-ever inductee in the ParaVolley category, leaders on the court, the sidelines and on the cutting edge of the game. This class covers it all and is sure to make for quite an emotional Induction Ceremony."

The 2022 International Volleyball Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony will take place in Holyoke on Oct. 22. Ticket packages are available online at VolleyHall.org/Induction-Celebration.

We encourage all volleyball enthusiasts to sign up to become a member of the IVHF through our membership program which will provide you behind-the-scenes and exclusive content before, during and after Induction Weekend. The International Volleyball Hall of Fame is a 501c3 nonprofit based in Holyoke, Mass., and is dedicated to preserving, honoring and promoting the game of volleyball at every level – men and women, amateur and professional players, coaches and contributors, both domestically and internationally. The IVHF was incorporated in 1978 and continues to create a diversely representative institution from a wide range of countries and disciplines. How is the Badger Region Board structured?

The Badger Region Volleyball Association is governed by a Board of Directors that must be elected by members on a regular basis. Area reps serve three-year terms, while members of the executive board serve four-year terms.

Members, whether they are players, coaches, parents, directors, athletic trainers or officials, are encouraged to communicate with their respective representative if they think policies or financial decision in the Region need to be changed.

Some policies enforced by Badger Region come from USA Volleyball, our sport's national governing body, so those can't be changed. But many others can.

The Board is advised by a 11 chairpersons (or experts) in various parts of the game, and five staff members (some of which have multiple responsibilities).

The state is divided into five parts geographically for representation. Plus, there are two at-large board members who you can approach if you don't feel comfortable with your current rep. And there is a rep dedicated just to issues that surround our Junior volleyball clubs and athletes.

You'll be hearing from each Board member twice a year in the form of a column in the Badger Beacon. Now, let's meet them:
